

Local Government Economic Development Incentives Survey for FY 2019-20

Overview

Thank you for taking the time to complete this online survey.

Before starting the online survey, you may find it useful to first print the PDF of this survey questionnaire and use it when gathering the required information. This PDF can be accessed and printed from the Florida Legislature's Office of Economic and Demographic Research (EDR) website via the following link:

<http://edr.state.fl.us/Content/local-government/economic-development-incentives/index.cfm>

With the exception of municipal governments having annual revenues or expenditures less than $250,000, counties and municipalities are required by law to report the economic development incentives paid during the previous fiscal year if the total amount of incentives paid during that year are in excess of $25,000.

Counties and municipalities should exclude the economic development incentives paid by any applicable Community Redevelopment Agency (CRA) from their respective county or municipal government's survey response. If any incentives were paid by a CRA, then the CRA should complete a separate survey response.

The fiscal year referred to in this survey is the Local Fiscal Year Ended September 30, 2020.

Pursuant to law, the survey response deadline is January 15, 2021.

If you have any questions about how your jurisdiction's incentives should be reported in this survey, please contact David Cooper, EDR Economist, by e-mail at cooper.david@leg.state.fl.us or by phone at 850-717-0463.

Once you have submitted the survey, you will not be able to edit your responses or print a copy of your completed questionnaire. If you find that you need to make revisions or need a copy, please contact Steven O'Cain, EDR Analyst, by e-mail at ocain.steve@leg.state.fl.us.

Additional Reporting Requirements

In addition to responding to this survey, additional reporting requirements are required by law.

Section 125.045(4), F.S., specifies that a contract between a county's governing body (or other entity engaged in economic development activities on behalf of the county) and an economic development agency (EDO) must require the EDO receiving county funds to submit a report to the county detailing how the county funds were spent and the results of the efforts on behalf of the county.

Section 166.021(8)(d), F.S., specifies that a contract between a municipality's governing body (or other entity engaged in economic development activities on behalf of the municipality) and an EDO must require the EDO receiving funds to submit a report to the municipality detailing how the funds were spent and the results of the efforts on behalf of the municipality.

Pursuant to law, the county or municipality must post the report on its website by January 15th of each year and submit a copy of the report to EDR as well.

EDR has recommended items of interest that should be included in the EDO's report. These recommendations, as well as other pertinent information, can be found on EDR's website via the following link:

<http://edr.state.fl.us/Content/local-government/economic-development-incentives/index.cfm>

The local government should email an electronic copy of the report to Steven O'Cain, EDR Analyst, at ocain.steve@leg.state.fl.us.

Local Government Economic Development Incentives Survey for FY 2019-20

Survey Introduction

Sections 125.045(5) and 166.021(8)(e), F.S., impose the economic development reporting requirements that will be satisfied by the submission of this survey questionnaire. For purposes of this questionnaire, economic development incentives paid by the local entity (county, municipality, or CRA) should be categorized into the one of the following classes:

- 1. DIRECT FINANCIAL INCENTIVES: Direct financial incentives of monetary assistance provided to a business include, but are not limited to, grants, loans, equity investments, loan insurance and guarantees, and training subsidies. CRA's should only report economic development incentives to businesses funded through Tax Increment Financing (TIF).
- 2. INDIRECT INCENTIVES: Indirect incentives in the form of grants and loans provided to businesses and community organizations that provide support to businesses or promote business investment or development. Incentives appropriated to Industrial Development Authorities (IDAs), Community Development Districts (CDDs) and Small Business Development Centers (SBDCs) from the county or municipality should be reported as indirect financial incentives. If the county or municipality appropriates any non TIF-generated funds to CRAs, such funds should be reported as indirect financial incentives.
- 3. FEE OR TAX-BASED INCENTIVES: Fee-based or tax-based incentives, including, but not limited to, credits, refunds, and exemptions.
- 4. BELOW MARKET RATE INCENTIVES: Below-market rate leases or deeds for real property.

EDR will report to the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House, and the Department of Economic Opportunity the results of this survey responses including summarizing the responses by incentive type. At a later date, the completed report will be posted to EDR's website via the following link:

<http://edr.state.fl.us/Content/local-government/reports/index.cfm#incentives-report>

What qualifies as direct financial incentives?

We will now ask you about the types of incentives paid to businesses during Fiscal Year 2019-20. The first category is direct financial incentives.

Direct financial incentives are provided through grants, loans, equity investments, loan insurance and guarantees. These programs can address business financing needs, workforce training, market development, modernization, and technology commercialization activities.

Direct financial incentives also include local financial support funding matches required by state incentives negotiated by the Florida Department of Economic Opportunity such as the Qualified Target Industry Tax Refund (QTI)* or the Quick Action Closing Fund (QACF). Also included are direct incentives offered in combination with other local governments.

Direct financial incentives are generally project-specific, contingent on pre-award review and evaluation, and typically performance-based.

Do not include payments or benefits to businesses from Industrial Development Authorities (IDAs), or any state or federal funds (i.e., CDBG funds, etc.), which the local government has the discretion to distribute. CRA's should only report economic development incentives to businesses funded through Tax Increment Financing (TIF).

* While the Qualified Target Industry Tax Refund is contingent on the business paying certain state or local taxes, the incentive itself is a grant award.

What qualifies as indirect financial incentives?

We will now ask you about indirect financial incentives.

Indirect financial incentives include grants and loans to local government entities, nonprofits, and organizations to support business investment or development. The recipients include communities, financial institutions, universities, community colleges, training providers, venture capital investors, and business incubators. Funds are provided to the intermediaries in the form of grants, loans, and loan guarantees.

Indirect financial incentives are generally contingent on pre-award review and evaluation, and such incentives may be performance-based.

General payments to Small Business Development Centers (SBDCs) do not qualify as an Indirect Financial Incentive, unless payments are specifically for training of an expanding or relocating business, or part of a specific economic development initiative. Economic Development Incentives appropriated to Industrial Development Authorities (IDAs) and Community Development Districts (CDDs) from the county or municipality should be reported here under indirect financial incentives.

While many jurisdictions do business marketing and recruitment "in-house," some contract with a private Economic Development Organization (EDO), or contribute dues to a regional EDO which provides such services to local governments across a defined region. Some EDOs also develop incentive agreements, subject to local government approval. These funds should be identified.

If the county or municipality appropriates any non TIF-generated funds to CRAs, such funds should be reported as indirect financial incentives.

What qualifies as fee-based or tax-based economic development incentives?

We will now ask you about fee-based or tax-based economic development incentives.

Fee-Based Incentives use "Home-Rule" revenues as the source of direct or indirect subsidies to qualified businesses. Counties and municipalities have broad authority to levy proprietary and regulatory fees and special assessments within their jurisdictions. Unless restricted by law or contract (such as bond provisions), local governments may also grant exemptions or waivers, or provide refunds or credits from these levies, either as an economic development incentive or for any other purpose.

Fee-based incentives include:

- Proprietary Fees, which may include Admissions Fees, Franchise Fees, User Fees, and Utility Fees.
- Regulatory Fees, which may include Building Permit Fees, Impact Fees, Inspection Fees, and Stormwater Fees.
- Special Assessments, which are "based on the special benefit accruing to such property from such improvements when the improvements funded by the special assessment provide a benefit which is different in type or degree from benefits provided to the community as a whole," pursuant to s. 170.01(2), F.S.

Tax-Based Incentives use the tax code as the source of direct or indirect subsidy to qualified businesses. In most instances, tax-based incentives are awarded upon verification of eligibility and may not be subject to pre-award review and evaluation like direct incentives.

Florida's counties and municipalities and their respective CRAs are limited in their ability to offer tax-based incentives for economic development. With the exception of ad valorem taxes, Florida's Constitution preempts all taxing authority to the state. Local taxes authorized by the State Constitution or the Legislature may only be levied pursuant to the specifications in the governing statute. Unless specifically authorized, relief from these local taxes in the form of credits, refunds, or exemptions may not be granted.

Of all the local taxes, current law only authorizes counties or municipalities to offer relief, in the form of exemptions, for the following:

- The Economic Development Ad Valorem Tax Exemption for new or expanding businesses that meet certain job-creation and other requirements, pursuant to s. 196.1995, F.S.
- The Local Business Tax exemption of 50 percent for "any business, profession or occupation" with a permanent business location in an Enterprise Zone, pursuant to s. 205.054, F.S.
- The Public Service Tax exemption for residential and agricultural uses, public bodies, nonprofit corporations, industrial consumers, and electrical energy used by qualified businesses located in Enterprise Zones, pursuant to ss. 166.231-234. F.S.
